February 24, 2016 1 of 12 Marble Nails: Step 1 Choose two contrasting colors - the more different they are, the better this design will appear. Apply one layer of two-tone lighter on all the nails, then let it dry. When it is dry, eclipse the second layer, which is much thicker than the first. 2 of 12 marble nails: step 2 While the second coat of your lighter color is still wet, use the dotter tool to apply your contrasting polishing. 3 of 12 marble nails: Step 3 using the dotter tool to swing your colors together. If your nails begin to look a little too bulky and want greater contrast, you can always add a few more drops of a lighter shade. Allow to dry, then add the top layer. 4 out of 12 marble nails Just so you have delicious rotating nails! Colours used: Floss Gloss Nail Lacquer in Dinge, Floss Gloss Nail Lacquer in Picnic. 5 out of 12 Reverse French Tip: Step 1 If you have longer nails, you will enjoy this look. Make sure your nails are smooth and filed evenly to keep your nails natural round shape. 6 of 12 Reverse French Tip: Step 2 Paint your nails with two coats of metal shade, then let it dry. 7 out of 12 Reverse French Tip: Step 3 Starting about a quarter inch from the cuticle, paint a darker shade shape that mimics your nail curve. Allow to dry, then add the top layer. 8 out of 12 reverse French tip sexy, feminine, and oh-so-versatile, this design can be created using almost any two shades to fit the season or holiday. Colors used: Essie Nail Polish No Place Like Chrome, Essie Nail Polish in Midnight Cami. 9 out of 12 negative spaces with Colorblocking: Step 1 Apply striptease tape three-quarters of the way down each clean, dry nail. 10 of the 12 negative spaces with colorblocking: Step 2 Apply two layers of your chosen nail polish part to your nail over the tape. Allow to dry. 11 of the 12 negative spaces with colorblocking: Step 3 Using tweezers, gently remove the tape. Eclipse the top layer, then allow to dry. 12 of the 12 negative spaces with colorblocking ultra-simple and so chic, experiment with this technique using both trendy shades or more classic picks. And to easily rotate, use a contrasting color as the main shade. Colour used: Chanel Le Vernis in Lavanda. 16 Oh-So Merry Winter Nail Art Ideas Advertising – Continue reading below This content is created and maintained by a third party, and imported into this page to help users submit their email addresses. But when it comes to her clothes, the designer is certainly not afraid of a bold pattern, interesting texture or unique draping. And her fall 2016 collection did not mark, as the designer experimented with velvet puffer coats, lace loads and a charming swan print, which could not help but make you smile. All this detail gives a lot of inspiration to someone like Madeline Poole, Sally Hansen' global color ambassador and manicurist brand brings for the show. After the final look of the marching runway, Poole goes back to her hotel to come up with a nail art design inspired collection, and this season, she shares her art exclusively with Allure. When I start looking at clothes on the stand behind the scenes and thinking about what I want to do, says Poole. And usually there are things that stand out to me very strongly as something that would really work as a nail look. But Poole ensures that stick around even after the models manicure is finished. It is best to see clothes on people, because sometimes there is a negative space that you would not notice when it is on the hanger. Sometimes it is a pattern that inspires you, and sometimes it is an incision, so it is best to take a close look at how it appears on the runway. The detail that stood out to Poole most from McCartney's fall 2016 collection was those adorable swans that decorated everything from shirts to dresses. I couldn't resist it, and everyone behind the scenes kept commenting on it, says Poole, who found the print reminiscent of vintage upholstery. Poole admits that painting swans on nails seems an impossible feat (or one that requires a degree in art), but the manicurist has come up with a brilliant way to make this design comfortable. Spreading the pattern through your fingers, it's a more abstract, brushed pattern rather than intricate details. And here, my friends, is how she did it:Step 1: Paint the nails in two midnight-blue Polish coats. Poole used Sally Hansen Complete Salon Manicure in Dark Hue Moor.Step 2: Use a striping brush and a short, flattering motion paint water reflection light blue. Poole used __Sally Hansen Complete Salon Manicure In Full Blue-m __. Step 3: Paint the swan forms white polish using a striping brush. Poole likes Sally Hansen's Complete Salon Manicure Let's Snow.Step 4: To create a swan beak, apply a small triangle of semi-mathematically orange polish, like __Sally Hansen Complete Salon Manicure Kook-a-mango. __ The look:How to make a smoky eye: Jump to the main contentNo more Polish spots!
